Avenue locals become 'Electric Rodeo' Road-Crew

While Lucindale is riding high on accolades for the success of the Great Southern Muster, from the likes of Lee Kernaghan, Channel Nine's Scott McBain, and Lucindale/Naracoorte Mayor Richard Bourne, a group of quiet achievers sit back in the shadows of praise, right here at Avenue Range.

These people made a huge contribution behind the scenes of the Great Southern Muster, which has gone unnoticed by most.

Following the mass departure of 6,500 people after the concert, and once most local volunteers had packed up their working boots and wearily made their way home to bed, a small group of men remained, working until the early hours of Sunday morning.

Recruited on the night as part of Lee Kernaghan's Road-Crew, these men stayed on-site for hours packing-up the enormous mobile stage. The contribution of their voluntary labour significantly reduced production costs associated with the concert.

What had earlier been the launching pad for six hours of great Country music performed by Lee Kernaghan, Tania Kernaghan, James Blundell and Steve Forde, amazingly managed to fit neatly back into two semi trailers destined for Broken Hill.

"After organising a baby-sitter, I headed back into Lucindale at about midnight, thinking I was in for a drink or two. But unbeknown to me, I'd been recruited to pack-up the stage," said Jon Sherwin.

Surrounded by familiar faces, Jon said that he wasn't surprised when he discovered that half of the Avenue Range CFS crew were there with him.

"The Avenue crew always puts in - it's nothing new for us to be left with the mop-up," said Jon.

Avenue Range residents - Darren Jenke, Greg Ingham, Tom Baker, Keith Higgins and his brother-in-law Derek Hutchence, Jon Sherwin and Daniel Justin, are amongst the ten men who stayed on the job until the two semi trailers rolled out onto the Lucindale/Kingston Highway at 2:30 am on Sunday.

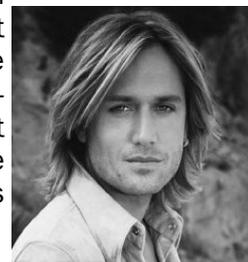

Member of the Avenue Range CFS also supplied fire drums and wood for the free camping area at the Great Southern Muster, earlier that week, which was organised by John Hensel and Jon Sherwin.

And if that wasn't enough for the small community, Greg Ingham seemed to hit the spot light on the night also. Greg spent the evening on top of 15 foot high scaffolding, with the responsibility of holding the spot light on some of Australia's most popular Country artists, Lee Kernaghan, Tanya Kernaghan and James Blundel.

"It was a pretty good spot to be in," said Greg. "I had a good view, but I really had to concentrate on what I was doing. I had an intercom head-set, and I could hear everything that was going on back-stage, and they gave me directions on what to do."

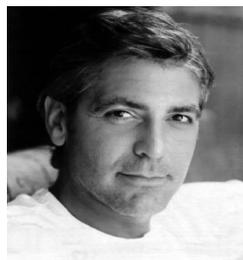

The over-all effort is just more evidence that the community spirit at Avenue Range far outweighs its population.

CHRISTMAS IN POLAND

by Vanda

FATHER CHRISTMAS - 'MIKOLAJ'

Polish children call Father Christmas, Mikolaj, and his feast day is celebrated in Poland on 6th December.

On that day the children receive little surprise gifts. At home they would find gifts hidden under their pillow or some other place. In schools, children bring unnamed presents which are given out by someone dressed as St Nicholas. The fun is in receiving a gift from a friend in your class.

In some parts of Poland, St Nicholas brings Christmas presents like Father Christmas does in Australia.

CHRISTMAS EVE - 'WIGILIA'

Wigilia is a fast-day for Polish Christmas. This means that people do not eat meat, and that no animal fat is used for cooking. But it does not mean that they go hungry.

For the Wigilia dinner, it is the custom to serve an odd number of courses. Seven courses is the most usual number, but it is not uncommon to have as many as thirteen different dishes. It all depends upon how much a family can afford.

There is an old Polish saying that: "He who misses out tasting any number of courses of the Wigilia dinner, will miss out that number of pleasures in the coming year."

If you go to a Polish Wigilia dinner, you must be prepared to do a lot of eating!

A WIGILIA MENU

Beetroot soup / Almond soup
Pickled herring
Cheese filled dumplings / Sauerkraut filled dumplings
Pike Polish style
Stewed sauerkraut with mushrooms
Fish in horseradish
Pickled beetroot
Egg noodles with poppy seed
Poppy seed rolls
Stewed fruit (dates, figs or raisins)
Wigilia honey and wheat sweet

AFTER THE DINNER

After the Christmas eve supper, everyone moves to the lounge room which the children have not been allowed to enter for the past day.

The room is filled with the fresh scent of pine needles. A large Christmas tree (choinka), stands in the room. It is decorated with colourful hand-made ornaments and with sweets, ginger, biscuits, little cakes, chocolates, and nuts and fruit for the children to eat.

The candles are lit and the lights are switched off. The children are given a "cold-fire sparkler" to light from the candles. The room turns into a fairyland as the sparklers spray their fine bright sparks.

Mother or father give out the presents which have been mysteriously placed under the Christmas tree. Later, everyone joins in singing Christmas carols (koledy).

CFS REPORT

by Captain John

Well, it's that time of year again where we should be ready for another fire season. Checking over the fire fighting unit, cleaning-up around the house and sheds, and having a quick-fill supply of water available can be a big help if you have a fire in your area.

We have already had some thundery weather, and no matter how careful you may be in respect to fires, lightning can strike anywhere, anytime. Quick response can mean the difference between a small or large fire, and this is where our Pagers can play a vital part.

Some batteries for the Pagers are available at the store. Please keep your Pagers close at hand at all times.

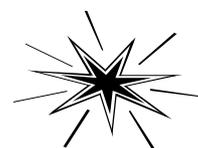

O.H.S & W has decided that elastic sided boots are not safe on the fire ground now, so if you require some approved boots, let me know the size so I can order some. If you require overalls, please inform me of the size and these can also be ordered.

UHF radios are also a big help in the initial stages of a fire, and are good for organising a crew for the fire truck. Our boundaries have been re-drawn, so we may be getting involved with some of our southern neighbours a bit more.

The truck has been serviced and our roster has been distributed, so let's hope we are ready for a quiet summer of fires.

If you have not received your CFS roster, please contact John Hensel on 8768 7241.

SAFF SCENE

by Kay Hocking

Welcome to 'SAFF Scene' a new addition to Avenue Ranger.

The South Australian Farmers Federation represents and works on behalf of all farming families and many businesses servicing our industries.

Avenue is well represented at both the local and State levels of SAFF.

Greg Ingham and Nick Edwards are respectively the President and Secretary of the local SAFF Lucindale Branch.

Greg is also a member of the Livestock Executive and the State OJD committee.

Kay Hocking is the South Eastern representative on the SAFF Board of Directors.

At the recent regional meeting held in Lucindale, information that may assist in reducing ETSA Utilities service fees for properties with multiple electricity meters and connection points was provided by ETSA staff. SAFF members will receive a brochure developed by ETSA/ SAFF & SADA outlining the options available.

A new arrangement with Telstra that offers increased discounts for SAFF members is in the process of being finalised.

Among other issues being dealt with at present are Native Vegetation, Natural Resource Management, Water Allocations, changes to the CFS Regulations, Live Sheep Trade and the National Identification Scheme for livestock.

New members are always welcome. Contact Greg or Kay for information.

Best wishes for the festive season, a good harvest, excellent stock and wool sales and a fire safe season.

AVENUE BOOK REVIEW

by Samantha Hoveringsham

Title: BARS, SARS AND BRAS
Author: Alan McGurk

As a Journalist, and the Adelaide Advertiser's scrutinizer of new novels, I was thoroughly thrilled to be given the task of reviewing a new novel, by that reclusive, yet lovely man from Avenue Range, Alan McGurk, called "Bars, Sars and Bras".

His two previous novels "Bathurst on Your Back" and "Buffaloes, Blacks and Barra's", caused more controversy than the introduction of condoms into the gay community.

"Bathurst on Your Back" was an incisive new look into traditional contraceptive methods used by Aboriginal women on the island. McGurk shattered a lot of traditional beliefs and has subsequently been banned forever from the Tiwi Islands.

His next book, "Buffaloes, Blacks and Barra's", had the sole distinction of setting back race relations between Arnhem Land Aborigines and Whites by at least thirty years. Not even Joe Bijelke-Peterson could have stirred up so much passion. Once again, a ban has been placed on McGurk's travels.

Having offended a good two thirds of Australians, this contemporary, or as some would say 'contemptuous', writer, chose to direct his next writing effort in Asia, via Viet-Nam.

"Bars, Sars and Bras" is a wonderful read, full of wit and self depreciation. At only $49.95, this 350 page book would make a wonderful Christmas present for most Australians, and can be purchased from very few select book stores.

I have included one of his chapters, which I found breathtaking, knowing the man personally.

BARS, SARS AND BRAS - Chapter 28

After trekking over much of Northern Viet-Nam with my loyal guide, Phuc Mi Shu, we both decided to put our weary feet up in Hanoi for a couple of days.

I had out-walked Phuc on a number of days and he was well and truly, so I gave him the day off. After interrogating the cunning little Phuc, I learnt that the night club "Apocalypse Now" was the place to go for a quiet drink and some Western music. Fortunately, Phuc had helped me select a fine array of cheap, but elegant, clothing while trekking, and I had no trouble looking like a man of the world. Like I said, Phuc was cunning, but if you used him the right way, he was priceless.

I arrived at the night club via Taxi at around 10:30 pm, after avoiding a couple of dodgy looking Rick Shaw drivers. I sat down and ordered a long cold beer; bloody hell - that tasted good, but where was everybody?

Suddenly, in walked a dozen of the most beautiful looking Asian women that any in-bred South Australian gentleman would drool over.

Of course, being a Northern Victorian wheat grower by origin, I casually glanced at them and faked disclaim. However, I was not surprised when the prettiest of the girls noticed my rugged Victorian looks and came over immediately, expertly placing her petite Oriental frame perfectly on the stool next to me.

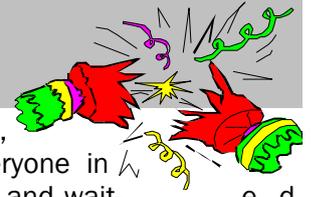

Hello's were exchanged and when the words "You buy me drink Mister" were uttered, I had the wallet, which was uncomfortably jammed in the back pocket, out faster than any Avenue Range hotdog with cheese.

After a drink or three, I found that this little princess' name was Mi Ling. Putting her small hand on my well muscled thigh, Mi informed me that she would "love me long time". I was immediately suspicious of this, as my previous "love me long time" had ended in divorce after 15 years.

The thought of arriving back at Avenue with Mi on my arm, however, did have some appeal and further information was sought. By this stage, the hand had progressed to an uncomfortable position, and an annoying twitch in my left eye that I had overcome years ago, suddenly re-emerged.

I was born with this twitch, but by watching the roosters chase hens in the back yard and catch them, I was able to control it as a young man. Of all places for it to reappear when near to finding a new partner, the darn thing had to pop-up again.

Mi quietly said, "me love you long time for one hundred U.S. dollar". This seemed strange to me, as I'm sure that I had spent more on my previous wife over a period of 15 years. Being the bargain hunter I am, and smelling an absolute bargain of a lifetime, I decided to offer her $AU30, a good rate even if she only lasted ten years.

Mi took immediate offence to this and blurted out, "What wrong? You no like woman?" It was my turn to be offended, and I bellowed a trite too loud, "My God woman, I've sired three wonderful children in a lustful relationship with my previous marriage partner. If that's not proof enough of my ability in the bedroom, I'll call Phuc and be off!"

Unfortunately, by this stage, my loud statement had everyone in the packed bar staring at us, and waited for further clarification.

I slowly faced the crowd, downed my remaining drink and removed Mi's grasp. All this while twitching furiously in the left eye. As casual as is possible in a hostile environment, I looked everyone in the eye and blurted out, "Mi, Phuc and I don't seem to be compatible. Thank you for the lovely evening", and left.

As you can see, McGurk's work is incredible and that is only one chapter. I'm sure that critics will love this latest book, and he will be placed back into the literary circles where he belongs.

Good Luck Alan!

♥ Samantha

JOKE OF THE DAY

A gynaecologist had become fed up with malpractice insurance and was on the verge of being burned out. Hoping to try another career where skilful hands would be beneficial, he decided to change careers and become a mechanic.

He found out from the local technical college what was involved, signed up for evening classes, attended diligently, and learned all he could.

When the time for the practical exam approached, the gynaecologist prepared carefully for weeks, and completed the exam with tremendous skill.

When the results came back, he was surprised to find that he had obtained a score of 150%. Fearing an error, he called the instructor, saying "I don't want to appear ungrateful for such an outstanding result, but I wondered if there had been an error needed adjusting."

The instructor said, "During the exam, you took the engine apart perfectly, which was worth 50% of the total mark. You put the engine back together again perfectly, which is also worth 50% of the mark."

The instructor went on to say, "I gave you an extra 50% because you managed to do it all through the muffler."

SHARING THE COKE

with Karena Higgins

Today I swapped the tea for a glass of coke while having a chat to local identity, Johnny Rivett, who always has a willing nature and smile to match.

KH You are a community minded person, how long have you been delivering the weekend papers?

JR I took over from Uncle Stan Hocking about 10 years ago.

KH I hear that you are very good at figures?

JR I enjoy counting out sheep at shearing, marking or drenching time and also help out at sheep dog trails.

KH What is your favorite sport?

JR I enjoy all sports. I play lawn bowls, but I love The Crows and John Rivett at the Avenue Store Sturt.

KH If you were to travel where would you like to go?

JR Back to England and visit my Grandmothers home town. While I'm there I would like to see Australia take on England in Cricket, and then catch Lleyton Hewitt winning the Wimbledon Crown.

KH If you could turn back time what would you do?

JR Go and watch Sir Donald Bradman play cricket.

KH When did you last see the Crows play?

JR Last season, but not only did we loose to Hawthorne but the bus broke down on the way home.

KH What did mum tell you that you have remembered when you were little?

JR If I get lost to find a policeman.

KH Didn't you get lost in Melbourne, what did you do?

JR I went and saw Crows at the MCG. That night Kangaroos were taking on the Lions at the new Colonial Stadium (Telstra Dome), so I followed the crowd and got there, but I got lost on the way back. So I found a policeman and he told me how to get back to my hotel.

KH Favourite Food?

JR Chops and Veggies and I am a bit partial to chocolate. (Aren't we all)

KH Fav Music

JR Country & Western, I went to see Lee Kernagan at the Great Southern Muster and I thought he was terrific. It was a nice surprise to see Tanya Kernagan and James Blundel.

KR What are you up to next Johnny?

JR Well I am going to see Momma Mia again in Adelaide. I saw it in Melbourne.

KH What would you like for Christmas?

JR Doesn't matter, anything.

Thanks Johnny and if there is any one who loses their place with the day time soaps see Johnny...He's Your Man!

The RoVING EyE !

IT'S A SHOCKING THING

A local cattleman thought he'd go and do some solo fence maintenance down the backend of the property one wet wintry day.

He was bending down pulling some wire with his pliers, when the next thing he knew, he was on his backside about 2 meters from the fence, staring at the cloudy sky.

When he finally got his wits about him, he realised he'd blacked-out from about 4 Volts received direct to the head from the electric wire.

Nothing like a bit of Electric Shock Therapy to cure those winter blues!

BURN, BABY, BURN

You may have seen the CFS slogan: "It takes one spark to destroy a park" - well, maybe it should read: "It takes one spark to destroy the good old trusty Chamberlain".

A local farm-girl was mowing some hay at Avenue, when she noticed a little smoke coming from the tractor ... which rather quickly turned to flames.

With no other option, she gathered her prized possessions from the cab, and fled, only to watch the old Chamberlain go up in flames.

There's talk that the person in question had been talking a lot lately, about new modern tractors with "air-conditioned cabs". Hmmm.....

NOT-SO-GREEN THUMB

There's a lot to be said about the Agricultural teachings at the Lucindale Area School.

One young school leaver, working locally to earn some $$$'s before starting Uni next year, (and fortunately his chosen course is not in the ag industry), was asked to spray some weeds around the house and sheds.

Over the following week, his employers noticed that he'd done an excellent job, as they watched the weeds wither and die, one by one. And then, with alarm, they also started to watch young healthy 5ft trees wither and die, one by one. Apparently they are still counting the toll.

Every saying has its origins, so when you hear that something has been "michaelled" or "miked", you'll know the truth of where this one started!

TALKIN' TO THE GIRLS

by the "X-Man"

After a quick dash down to the chook pen to catch a rooster for Meredith Pomey's lonely girls (and I don't mean Melissa and Megan!), I was off to the Pom's with what I thought was one really good looking Cock-a-doodle-doo.

- X-Man So Meredith, now we have the chooks settled (????), what a lot of people would like to know, including myself, is what was it that first attracted you to Trev way back then?
- Meredith Must have been his charm and good looks! But thinking about that again, it must have been something else!
- X-Man Oh, because some people say that you picked him up at Trev's Bargains - and that the mould was broken before they made him. So what attracts you now?
- Meredith Definitely not the first answer. Well stuffed if I know! The food's good can't think of anything else.
- X-Man Let us all in on how Trev popped the big question?
- Meredith He never did. No romantic stuff - still waiting for that. He said something like, "How's about we get married? Nothing better to do."
- X-Man You're known as one of the highly renowned Avenue CFS vets, what's your biggest highlight on the CFS truck - since I don't usually see you at A.J.'s 'debriefings' afterwards?
- Meredith Would have to be the training day with Chaz Gilkes. It was fantastic! I had a ball, but I realise now that I should've been serious. By the way, who's A.J.?
- X-Man Humans often show strong animal characteristics - what animals would you describe yourself and Trevor as?
- Meredith Trevor thinks he's a pussy cat and I'm a lion. I disagree. I think I'm similar to a dog - faithful, loving, affectionate and hard-working.
- X-Man Can you describe to us, in detail, what you'd do if you won X-lotto tomorrow?
- Meredith Buy 'Nyara'!! New cars - kids etc. Travel. Sure I could think of more!!! The Flying Doctors.
- X-Man When people reach your age, Meredith, they often reflect on missed opportunities and regrets. Apart from the obvious, what are some of yours?
- Meredith Well, I did all my travelling when I was younger, so I have no regrets there. But one thing that I do regret would have to be not going to New Zealand when I had a job offer. BIG MISTAKE! Guess who stopped that? Must have been LOVE!
- X-Man People often say that they can relate to a song, what song do you feel you relate to, and please explain to us why?
- Meredith I don't relate to any specific song, but Country music brings back memories of the pre-Trevor days bonfires.....guitar.....singing BUNDY!
- X-Man We've all heard how Trevor's a good cook - so if he were to knock-up a romantic meal, who would you invite and what would you ask Trev to cook?
- Meredith A five course seafood picnic with Country music and ADAM BRAND!
- X-Man Seriously now, we all know that you're not scared of the hard yakka, Meredith, so what do you like to do in your spare time?
- Meredith Spare time??? Gardening and horse riding.

Well Meredith, it's been great to catch up with you for a chat. There's a bit of commotion going on outside. Either the fox has got back amongst the chooks, or the new rooster is starting to get to know the girls!

YOUR XMAS STAR GUIDE

by Crystal Ballz

ARIES: March 21 - April 20 It is often said that a mind is a terrible thing to lose, but in your case, yours would have been a terrible thing to keep! Have a Merry Xmas anyway!!

TAURUS: April 21 - May 20 There will be great joy for you this Xmas. You will get a really good deal on a new set of wheels. You may have to pay extra for assembly as push bikes are hard to put together.

GEMINI: May 21 - June 20 You don't get out much these days, nor do you have many friends, so take the time this Xmas to entertain the voices in your head.

CANCER: June 21 - July 22 Still trying to get rid of last year's useless Xmas present? Your friends are usually pretty gullible, try them first. Just hope they didn't give it to you first!

LEO: July 23 - Aug 23 Be ready for an exciting new change to happen in your life this Xmas. It may be a new romance, a holiday, or even money coming your way. But then again, I told you that last year, didn't I?

VIRGO: Aug 24–Sept 23 The only way your love life will improve this Xmas, is if you dial 1902 225 615. Go on, take a chance. Guaranteed to please.

LIBRA: Sept 24 - Oct 22 A mysterious and exciting person was to enter your life this Xmas. Unfortunately, Virgo got to them first by dialing their 1902 work number.

SCORPIO: Oct 23 - Nov 21 You can do no wrong. This Xmas everyone wants to know you. The R.B.T. Cops, the Speed Cops, the Drug Squad

SAGITTARIUS: Nov 22 - Dec 21 You will meet your soul mate at this year's Xmas party. Bet you didn't know you were gay!!!!

CAPRICORN: Dec 22 - Jan 20 Be brave this Xmas. Ask Grandma to keep her teeth in her mouth and tongue out of yours when she gives you a Xmas kiss.

AQUARIUS: Jan 21 - Feb 19 Have you got all your Xmas decorations and lights up yet? Are they bigger and better than the neighbours? That's the main thing, isn't it?

PISCES: Feb 20 - March 20 You want to be the life of the party again this Xmas, but after last year's effort, your invitation could be a long time coming.

LADY versus REAL WOMAN

LADIES:

If you accidentally over-salt a dish while it's still cooking, drop in a peeled potato and it will absorb the excess salt for an instant "fix-me-up."

REAL WOMEN:

If you over-salt a dish while you are cooking, that's too damn bad. Please recite with me the Real Women's motto: "I made it and you will eat it and I don't care how bad it tastes."

LADIES:

Cure for headaches: Take a lime, cut it in half and rub it on your forehead. The throbbing will go away.

REAL WOMEN:

Take a lime, mix it with tequila, chill and drink. You might still have the headache, but who cares?

LADIES:

Stuff a miniature marshmallow in the bottom of a sugar cone to prevent ice cream drips.

REAL WOMEN:

Just suck the ice cream out of the bottom of the cone, for Pete's sake. You are probably lying on the couch, with your feet up, eating it anyway.

LADIES:

To keep potatoes from budding, place an apple in the bag with the potatoes.

REAL WOMEN:

Buy boxed mashed potato mix and keep it in the pantry for up to a year.

LADIES:

When a cake recipe calls for flouring the baking pan, use a bit of the dry cake mix instead and there won't be any white mess on the outside of the cake.

REAL WOMEN:

Go to the bakery - they'll even decorate it for you!

LADIES:

Brush some beaten egg white over pie crust before baking to yield a beautiful glossy finish.

REAL WOMEN:

Woolies frozen pie directions do not include brushing egg whites over the crust, so I just don't do it.

LADIES:

If you have a problem opening jars, try using latex dishwashing gloves. They give a non slip grip that makes opening jars easy.

REAL WOMEN:

Go ask the very cute neighbour to do it.

And finally the most important tip....

LADIES:

Don't throw out all that left-over wine. Freeze into ice cubes for future use in casseroles and sauces.

REAL WOMEN:
